Accolade Quartet

Press Release

Sydney's own Accolade Quartet win National Championship female a cappella contest.

On any ordinary day, they might be picking up children from school or balancing work with family but on an extraordinary day in late May, this group of four Mums wowed Australia's a cappella community by winning, for the 2nd time in three years, the coveted Women's Barbershop Quartet Gold medal, placing them as Australia's finest quartet singers.

- Accolade Quartet are four voices that sing without accompaniment, their voices provide all of the music and harmonies that make their songs vibrant and unique. With a mix of jazz, soulful ballads and music to span the generations, this group has a sound that gives you goose bumps and makes your heart sing along with them.
- So who are these dedicated singers? They are Vicki Sutton (from Hornsby Heights) singing bass, Amanda Andrews (from Gladesville) singing baritone, Wendy Scandurra (from Putney) singing tenor and Vicki Dwyer (from Quakers Hill) singing lead. Somehow, even with their busy lives and eleven children between them, they find time to rehearse and perfect the harmonies with which they have twice become Australia's National Champions.
- Accolade will represent Australia for the second time at the International Convention of Women Barbershop singers in Las Vegas, USA during October 2006.
- Accolade Quartet are currently recording their debut CD due to be released in early August 2006. The girls are also available for bookings through their website.
